

Table with multiple columns and rows, likely a financial or organizational chart. The header row is highly detailed with many sub-headers. The first data row shows values for various categories, including 'Bilan' and 'Total'. The table is organized into several major sections, each with a distinct background color for its header row.